Studies—jointly presenting this annual, prestigious program for Design Excellence and for the best and next contributions to innovative contemporary American architecture.

The American Architecture Awards are the nation’s highest and oldest public awards given by a non-commercial, non-trade affiliated, public arts, culture, and educational institution.

“For 28 years, The American Architecture Awards have celebrated the best contemporary architecture and highlights the many ways buildings and spaces can improve lives,” states Christian Narkiewicz-Laine, architecture critic and Museum President, The Chicago Athenaeum.

“What is important to note is the expansion of sustainability strategies that are seamlessly integrated in aesthetics.”

“The United States continues to be a forward-leaning capital of architecture.”

“Designers based here, and the architecture realized in their cities, demonstrate how design may be harnessed to address the pressing threats of our time, climate change; the economy; and the crisis of so many people without housing,” Narkiewicz-Laine continues.

“This year’s winning projects are also characterized as exuding urban generosity, a sense of dignity, and timelessness—the absolute paramount definition of Good Design.”

In October, a jury of independent Italian architects, educators, and planners convened remotely to select the winners of the 2022 American Architecture Awards.

The five-member jury selected submissions that demonstrate design achievement, including a sense of place, purpose, history, and environmental sustainability.

Juror members included:

- Claudio Raviolo, Antonio Citterio Patricia Viel
- Carlo Ratti, CRA-Carlo Ratti Associati
- Mario Mazzer, Studio Mario Mazzer
- Piero Lissoni, Lissoni & Partners
- Samuel Sordi, Pininfarina of America Corp.

In addition, the jury awarded over 50 honorable mentions.

"This year, we are pleased to present to an ambitious and diverse range of projects from a wide range of established and upcoming architects' practices," states Kieran Conlon, Executive Director, The Chicago Athenaeum and Director of The European Centre.

"It is particularly important to be considering excellence in architecture at this time—in this fast-changing world, where governments, clients and society need the skills and insight of architects."

"The US awards show how well-considered, well-delivered and well-performing architecture has the immense potential to improve lives and communities," continues Conlon.

"We are very pleased to be able to celebrate some of the most innovative, ingenious and impactful architecture in the world – designed by some of the most talented architects of our time."

The American Architecture Awards, founded 28 years ago, is a centerpiece of The Chicago Athenaeum and the European Centre's efforts to identify and promote best practices in all types of architectural development and to bring a global focus to light of the best new designs from the United States. It is the only national and global program of its kind.
